

Dan Simon recently finished directing his second feature film Another Year Together - a comedy starring Alexandra Turshen, Richard Masur, Marilyn Sokol, and his father, Roger Simon. He also co-wrote and edited the movie. His first feature film Lonely Boys ran festivals and won awards in 2016, including First Time Fest, San Antonio Film Festival & Greenwich International Film Festival. It was distributed and released by Candy Factory Films in April of 2017. It's available to watch on iTunes, Amazon & Comcast on-demand.

As an actor, he's starred opposite Oscar winner Viola Davis as well as Tony-Award winner Mario Cantone. Simon's short films have been selected, screened, and nominated for several awards around the world.

Dan has also produced, directed, shot and edited short documentaries, commercials, PSAs, corporate industrials, music videos, live performances, and other forms of media. Clients range from Barnes & Noble to New York City Ballet.